CHANGES ANNOUNCED FOR THEATER PROGRAM

Important changes are announced by Stanley Swift of the Swift Theatres. The August program just out carries some of the big time films of the month and patrons will be glad to know that their convenience and pleasure has been more widely served.

For some time Mr. Swift has made Wednesday Bargain Day. Tuesday has been added and now patrons have two bargain days at the Cameron Theatre.

Beginning, August 14, the Saturday night preview is revived at the Cameron Theatre. Two pictures are to be shown and patrons may see both pictures for the price of one admission if they desire.

The preview will start around ten o'clock.

Mr. Swift has some important plans for the Milam Theatre which he hopes to announce in a short time.

Among the important films of the year for August is "The Good Earth" featuring Paul Muni and Louise Ranier. Only two shows will be attempted from this film, the matinee and night performance. This is due to the great length and detail of the show. This film comes on August 26 and 27.

Jean Harlow's last picture comes to the Cameron on August 22 and 23. It is "Saratoga" and the film Miss Harlow was completing when she died.

City Marshal Smith attended the meeting and inquired as to the purpose of the meeting. Upon learning that the organization intended to demand a price of $1 per hundred pounds for cotton picking, Smith ordered the men to disband and stated there would not be any cotton pickers' union in Milam county.

Cotton pickers are now being paid between 60c and 75c per hundred.

Man Shot In Sleep; Mother-in-law Held

Mrs. Ina Catchings of Rockdale a widow, is in jail in default of a $2,500 bond and charged with assault with intent to murder her son-in-law, Chon Esparza, 20, who lives two miles from Rockdale on the Ernest Foster farm.

Mrs. Catchings confessed to District Attorney Emory B. Camp Tuesday morning, that she walked into the bed room of her daughter and son-in-law and shot him twice while he lay asleep. Esparza was brought to the Cameron Hospital and is given a good chance to recover, it was said. Esparza was shot in the right side of the neck and the left side of the stomach with a double action revolver, which Mrs. Catchings said she bought in Rockdale last week.

Tells of Marriage

Mrs. Catchings confessed that her daughter, Goldie Lee Catchings and Chon Esparza were married, January 4, 1936. She did not approve of the marriage, and said that since the marriage Esparza had been mistreating her daughter in various ways and had been keeping her from Sunday School. Mrs. Catchings went to the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Monday afternoon and spent the night with them. She got up early Tuesday morning and went to the bed room of her daughter and son-in-law and shot him, District Attorney Camp said.

Walks to Rockdale

Constable W. C. Colvin arrested Mrs. Catchings at her home in Rockdale, after she had walked from the Esparza home after the shooting. She was brought to Cameron at 5 a. m. Tuesday.

The wounded man and his wife have a one year old son. Mrs. Catchings is about 53 years of age.

Jail Break Stopped When Minister Reports Attempt

Discovery of partly sawed cell bars and locks here Friday afternoon in the county jail prevented what officers said may have been a wholesale exodus of prisoners from the jail.

J. L. McRea, a minister under indictment for swindling the Cameron Life Insurance Company because he collected an accident benefit after he had laid his arm on the rails of the S. P. Lines south of Rockdale, discovered the attempted jail break and reported to Will Walston, jailer who called Sheriff R. M. Kennedy.

Careless handling of prisoners and a too free access to the jail accounts for the smuggling in of saws. Two bars were sawed in the run around and a lock was cut through in the cell door of Dunk Owens. A heavy piece of iron was found wrapped in the cell.

Three men occupy the cell with Owen. They are Jack Tabor, Jim Garnett and S. Abbot. They are charged with disturbing the peace at Gause. Owen is held for hi-jacking E. D. Burger near Rockdale.

SUN BLASTS HOPE OF BIG COTTON YIELD HERE

Extreme heat during the past ten days was said by farmers and observers to have greatly reduced the cotton crop in Milam county from previous estimates and indications were that the plant under the sun blast would quit producing altogether and immature harvest result.

On the prairie lands cotton was being badly burned and in many cases the plant withering away under the terrifice heat of mid-summer sun. In the heavy bottom lands where moisture is more plentiful the cotton was standing up better but in most cases had ceased to fruit and apparantly nothing further could be expected.

Rainfall in the county would result in benefits to young acreage. It is estimated that more than 25 per cent of the crop is young and must have rain to produce. In some sections the plant was no more than eight inches high and stands barren of fruit and little prospect is held for any crop on these lands.

Generally over the county some production will be realized. The crop will be larger this year than in 1936. Estimates of 50,000 bales ten days ago have been reduced to 35,000 and 40,000. Thus it will be seen that damage has cost the farmers almost a million dollars when taken into toll with the market drop.

Greater Furniture Store Stocks Open At Green-Boedeker

Green & Boedeker's greater store announces the expansion of stocks to include two car loads of furniture for their second store display of household goods.

The stocks are being unloaded this week in advance of the heavy fall season. "This is the best news we have been able to pass along to our customers and friends in a long time. We were able to make special advantages in the purchase of these stocks and we are selling them accordingly," said Leland Green, Sr., in charge of the new furniture store.

The big store is crowded to capacity with new goods. The ads this week tell the story of better buying advantages.

CZECH RADIO FILM IS SEEN BY MANY

The Czech Radio Film shown at the Milam Theatre on Sunday August 1 was seen by one of the largest crowds of the season. The box office reported $128 net.

Funds from the picture will be used to buy school supplies for poor children in the Catholic school at Marak and in Cameron, it was announced by the committee in charge.

The Committee on behalf of the Czech people extends thanks to Mr. Swift of the Swift Theatres for the use of the Milam. He supplied at his own expense a comedy for the program and made no deductions for any expense.

Mr. Swift has tendered the theatre for future films for the Czech people and staged by local Czech citizens for local purposes.

Visitors from adjoining counties were here to see the film.

THEORY OF MURDER ADVANCED IN CASE

BULLETIN

Austin authorities told District Attorney Camp late Wednesday it was not certain the body found in an alley here Tuesday had been embalmed. M. T. Gonzaullas said the straight cut in the abdomen and cut on the left chest were crudely done. A week or more will be required to complete the analysis. It was impossible at present to tell whether the body is that of a man or woman.

A body believed to be that of a young woman from 18 to 20 years of age was found in the alley near the north entrance of the Cameron Herald plant about 8 o'clock Tuesday morning by Wesley Nicholson, 15.

The body lay wedged between a small cycamore tree and the brick wall. The head had been severed from the body and the left arm was missing. Indications were the body had been thrown from the roof of the building but officers believed it had been placed in this position by someone who wished to dispose of it.

Sheriff R. M. Kennedy took the body to the Crime detection bureau of the Texas Public Safety Commission in Austin where M. T. Gonzaullas, known as the 'Lone Wolf' of the Rangers began a study to determine whether the young woman had been the victim of foul play.

Never Buried

Condition of the body indicated it had been stored in a loft or had lain under a floor. It had never been buried.

At Ranger headquarters it was said Wednesday an attempt had been made to embalm the body and a chemical study will be made to determine the peculiar methods used in this job.

Rats Deface Body

In the stomach cavity and inside the upper rib section rats had built a nest and flesh still on the bones appeared to be partially mummified, especially on the shoulders and back where the flesh was a tan color and thick. Finger and toe nails were still on fingers and toes. Rats had eaten the flesh from the ribs on both sides. Bits of paper and corn shucks were inside the torso, used by rats in the nest. Leaves thought to be post oak variety were sticking to the left side of the body. A piece of eyelet embroidery about eighteen inches long was sticking to the right side and hung down from the body.

Body to Austin

Justice of Peace Womack Brashear held an inquest and gave the sheriff authority to move the body to Austin. Criminal District Attorney Emory B. Camp was conducting an investigation. Adjoining buildings were carefully searched late Tuesday and early Wednesday. Jim Perkins, former Texas Ranger, was assisting. He said he found leaves similar to those on the body in a loft in a building formerly used for storage. The fact that the body had been partially embalmed led officers to suspect it had been taken from a morgue.

Body of Adult

From Austin Wednesday it was learned the body was that of an adult, but the Rangers were undecided whether it was that of a male or female. Also they said they could not yet determine if the body was that of a white or negro.

A local physician said the person had been dead about 6 or 8 months. Justice Brashear said the body appeared to have been that of a woman dead about 6 months.

Cuts Found

District Attorney Camp made the startling discovery that the woman had apparently been operated on. An incision had been made near the base of the neck in front and circled left over the breast. Stitches were plainly visible. A large wound was fund in the abdomen and physicians in Austin had not determined whether these wounds were inflicted prior or at the time of death. If the cuts on the breast were those of a surgeon, the abdominal wound was not, according to available information at noon Wednesday.

The body showed evidence of having been stored in a loft or kept under a floor or some sheltered place. The attempt at embalming was crude.

Head Cut From Body

The head had been cut from the body recently. As it appeared the body could have been thrown from a roof, but the head and left arm were missing.

The head had been severed from the body with a knife, it was said at Austin Tuesday and had been cut off recently. The removal of the head and the left arm was said by Austin authorities to have been the work of one unskilled with a knife and was not the work of a trained operator.

Belief that the body had been brought to Cameron from a distance was strengthened Wednesday when leaves found inside the rat nest were from trees not common at Cameron. Chief Gonzaullas said a complete study would require several days.

Newspaper Clue

A large quantity of shredded newspaper was found inside the body and also a number of leaves. It was the plan of the Ranger headquarters to piece together these fragments and

NOTICE
To The Public

A great drawing card for the out of town photographer is the supposed idea and SALES talk that they being a large business can deliver a class of work that cannot be furnished by the local man.

It is true that Our Studio has not attempted to supply the So-called Etching type of photograph because it has been so commercialized by some studios and the value of that particular type of picture is so varied by these different studios that we have purposely left it out so that our photographs will not be rated along with machine made products. Instead we try awfully hard to give each of our patrons individual attention and work towards furnishing them with photographs characteristic of themselves. Therefore we of course try to avoid the FADS and specials that so many studios depend upon for their patronage.

However, we can and will supply any type or grade of photograph that any one could desire, and for example we will make any one a 6-Proof Sitting for $1 and from your selected proof we can supply you with the 11x14 (Etching) in any quality at $1 each. (These are printed commercially by a studio in another city and delivery can be made 15 days after proofs are selected.)

Dionne Quin's Show is Great Attraction

A curious world looks on in amazement as the Dionne Quintuplets continue to hold their place in the spotlight. The first year the famous babies rated first page news because of their valiant struggle for life. The second year it was interesting to watch them develop individual characteristics. And today they are still the center of world-wide interest with statisticians wondering if 1937 visitors will break last year's record attendance.

It is said that approximately 375,000 persons witnessed the world's greatest show at Callendar, Ontario, the summer of 1935, and that last summer there were more than 500,000 visitors. During one month alone July 1936, there were reported 141,342 sightseers, arriving in 30,216 automobiles and 68 buses. It is estimated that of these 70 per cent came from the United States. Weather permitting, the famous five put on a show twice a day throughout the spring, summer and autumn, and sometimes in the winter. A diffused glass screen keeps the visitors unseen by the Quins and at a distance.

All of the visitors are amazed at the amount of vitality shown by the Quins. One reason for their amazing vitality is their diet. For example, the cereal chosen for the Dionne Quins is Quaker Oats, rich in Vitamin B. And Vitamin B is important in combatting those childhood, and poor appetite when they are due to lack of that vitamin. And, too, Quaker Oats with milk is a fine source of body-building minerals, muscle-building protein and food-energy.

So the most famous babies in the world who thrive on Quaker Oats are splendid examples of what modern science and proper diet can accomplish in child-raising.

THE HOME PAPER

(Editor's note: This article is published as a news item and represents the personal views of Mr. Ferguson only.)

Every family should subscribe for the home paper. Every merchant that can ought to advertise in the home paper.

It is impossible to maintain a good newpaper unless the community where it is located patronizes the home paper.

No community can grow and prosper unless it has a good newspaper. There is a community of interest between the home paper and th residents of its territory which can be developed only by cordial co-operation.

A lot of well meaning people won't subscribe for or advertise in their home paper because they don't like the editor or because something has been said editorially that they did not like. This is a narrow view to take of the situation.

There is nothing that will help any community like an independent newspaper that has the courage of fearless discussion of public questions in its columns.

I don't mean that the editor must cuss everybody and everything out every week, but the editor should be allowed to give his views and if you will allow him that privilege he will be only too willing to allow you to give your views in his columns.

The big mistake business men make is to withdraw patronage of their local paper because they don't like the editor. Just keep on sending your copy to the home paper and cultivate the editor a little more and before you know it, you will find yourself on a common ground of working together for the advancement of a common good.

Now Mr. Editor, I mean you too. Don't draw in your shell and think that because you have the only paper in town you can rule the whole town. You need the people and the people need you. Let that old organ of yours go to bragging on your old town and a dozen personal references a week to people who like to be recognized will do you both good.

There is no community in Texas, but what can be materially advanced if the people will get behind their home paper and give it a fair amount of business and a word of encouragement.

In the months and years that are just ahead of us there will come up for earnest discussion the most important questions of our day and generation. The people will want and should receive at least a fair and truthful statement of the news of what is going on everywhere. Your local paper can not give their readers this service unless their local people extend their full and complete co-operation. The whole world is sitting on a volcano. Subscribe for your home town paper and find out about it.

With good crops to be harvested a reasonable increase in business is in sight. Begin your advertisement now brother merchant and tell the people in your section that you really have first class merchandise right at home, and pretty soon people will be asking who started this love feast?

Gladys Harris Weds Wade Price of Kerens

In a pretty twilight wedding here at the First Presbyterian church on Tuesday night, the wedding anniversary of the Bride's parents, Miss Gladys Eugenia Harris of Buckholts became the bride of Wade J. Price of Kerens.

Rev. M. O. Cheek, pastor of the First Baptist church at Kerens read the impressive ring ceremony. A prayer was given by Rev. O. C. Acrey, pastor of the local Presbyterian church.

Palms, fern and floor baskets of pink asters on the altar formed a pretty setting for the wedding. "At Dawning" was sung by Billy Triggs, accompanied on the pipe organ by Miss Katherine Monroe, who also rendered Lohengrin's wedding march for the processional; "Traumerei" during the ceremony and Mendelssohn wedding march for the recessional.

Miss Monroe wore a white dotted Swiss organdy frock, with a peach, green and yellow ribbon sash. These colors were also noted in the rosebud corsage which Miss Monroe wore at the neck line to complete her costume.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. Harris of Buckholts. She was given in marriage by her father, who with her mother stood at the left of the couple during the ceremony. Miss Harris' wedding raiment was white satin, made princess style, with a train. Her veil was white tulle caught with a coronet of seed pearl. For something old, the bride wore an amthyst pin, which belonged to her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. C. A Caldwell. She carried an arm bouquet of beautiful white roses.

Miss Harris was attended by a maid of honor, Miss Lucille Copeland of Rogers. Miss Copeland wore a peach colored frock of net over matching taffeta, with a coronet of flowers in her hair.

The bride's mother was becomingly dressed in blue lace over taffeta with a turban of the same material. Her corsage was of white fever few and pink pom pom asters.

Weyman A. Price of Kerens, bother of the groom was best man. Albert S. Pritchard of Kerens served as usher.

Mrs. Price has been teaching mathematics in the high school at Kerens for several years. She was reared at Buckholts, graduated from the Cameron high school, attended Baylor College, Belton; and is a graduate of Baylor University, Waco. She did graduate work at the University of Texas, Austin; and also taught school at Buckholts, where she has a host of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Price will make their home in Kerens where the groom is employed as bookkeeper with the Bruner Chevrolet company. They are honeymooning in South Texas.

Following the ceremony, parents of the bride entertained with an informal reception for out of town guests and the bridal party on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer McLane. Mrs. John Muse presided at the punch bowl; Miss Undine Fullwood of Dallas and Miss Pauline Dahnke of Boyce at the bride's cake; Mrs. A. S. Pritchard of Kerens and Miss Patsy McGregor at the bride's book.

For her going-away costume, Mrs. Price wore a navy blue crepe, with white accessories.

Prior to the wedding, Mrs. Claude McGregor honored the bride and groom, members of their wedding party and the out of town guests at a buffet supper.

PANHANDLERS DE LUXE

Judging from the expression on the faces of Zoe Dell Lantis, pretty pirate girl of the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, and Sam Johnston, president of the Angels Camp Calif., Boosters' Club, who is seen here as a miner, there's plenty of pay dirt in the pan. Miss Lantis uncorks the smile while Johnston reveals plans for a "Forty-niner Mining Camp" at the Exposition.

in this way shed some light on the length of time the body had been stored. The officers will be able to tell from the print the names of the newspapers torn by the rats. In this way the origin of the body will be determined. They said it had apparently been hauled some distance and placed in the alley here.

Truck Seen

Presence of a large motor truck in and near the block where the Herald building is located lends credence to the theory this might have happened, although officers here said they had established practically the identity of the truck.

Search of adjoining lots and buildings failed to reveal the missing head and legs.

Check up on morgues and hospitals as well as physicians by Mr. Camp failed to disclose any evidence leading to identification of the body. Mr. Camp said his office had practically exhausted all clues to the mystery thus far.

GOOD DOLLARS are often wasted

Money spent for adverstising pays dividends only when the newspaper has circulation.

Rates are more often justified than false, but the percentage of false claims by chance publishers, is higher than most people know.

Otherwise good business men, known widely for their astute management of dollars, too often put their money into worthless advertising mediums or fall into the error of following 'preferences' justified only by lack of understanding of what constitutes sound advertising investment.

The Herald occupies a position in Milam county that makes it the most valuable advertising medium. Certain facts prove this claim, among them the population distribution. Only three counties have a larger rural population than Milam. The Herald's circulation power is more than 70 per cent according to its latest sworn statement.

Thirty-five Thousand people live in the rural districts of Milam County. More than 20,000 live in the Cameron trade territory.

Finding a more profitable medium would be impossible.

The newspaper field in Milam County is essentially a weekly field. The Herald is eveything it claims in this field and nothing that is false in another direction.

Yes, Good Dollars, are often wasted.

It is the custom in certain South American movie theatre, when patrons express marked disapproval of a picture, to stop it and start another. On the other hand, scenes loudly applauded are run over again immediately, and as often as demanded.

The only readium refinery in the world now in active operation is at Port Hope, Ontario, to which ore is brought from Great Bear Lake, 3,000 miles away. There is only a little more than one pound of radium in the world today, and it is worth about 25,000 times its weight in gold.

Time Tried and Fire Tested

While this has been another week of rather meager results in the House it has been lacking in protracted and bitter debate. Of course, the question of adjournment has been in the background of all of the debate but there has been no definite development along that line. There are a number of small groups, each of which says they will not adjourn untill Congress acts on their special legislation. For my part, I feel that we should decide on a definite and permanent agricultural policy before adjournment if at all possible and I for one would gladly stay until that is done but the Agricultural Committees of both Houses seem to be of the opinion that it will be impossible to agree on any bill. I realize that it is a difficult problem and I do not want to pass some legislation simply to pass something. I realize that by taking this attitude of simply "passing something," we could easily get things into a worse condition than we have at present, but I do feel that if any way for the Committees to agree on a well-thought-out bill we should act this session and let our people know just what they can count on in the way of agricultural policy next year. Many of the Northern Congressmen can not see the importance of starting until next January or February but I am convinced that it will never be possible to make a general agricultural bill properly function the first year it is passed. Our farmers should know in the Fall just what they can rely on next Spring and it will be a distinct hardship if we do not get this information.

On Wednesday, the House spent the day in a bitter fight that started with a Rupublican effort to embarass the Democrats by splitting their force. Finally we passed the only bill of the day—a relatively unimportant measure conferring American citizenship on children of American parents residing in Panama—by a vote of 146 to 144. The vote was so close that the Speaker required verification—the first time this has happened since I have been here. I voted for the bill.

Early in the week the House passed a bill providing for the sale of power produced at the Bonneville Dam. I voted for this measure as I feel that we must use the investment we have but I voted against the measure to authorize the Gila Reclamation Project, which passed the House 160 to 147. I am a strong believer in flood control and power development but I can not see the consistency of appropriating millions to irrigate desert lands. These lands are being put into crops in competition with the very farmers who are being told to reduce their crops in other parts of the country and in the case of the Gila Project most of the land will go into long staple cotton. I am not going to vote to use public money to put in new cotton land while we do not have a market for all of the cotton we can produce on our existing farms. I do not think you can make the country prosperous by killing baby pigs but neither do I think you can help a Texas cotton farmer making a fourth of a bale per acre by taxing him to irrigate land in an Arizona desert so that some one out there can grow ten bales per acre in competition with our Texas farmers.

Large numbers of vacationists are now coming to Washington to see their nation's Capital. Almost every day we have some group from the 11th Texas Congressional District. Most of the visitors come to my office in the House Office Building and it is possible to make their trip more pleasant by giving them letters of introduction to The White House, the Senate and House Galleries, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the Library of Congress and other places of interest. It is a pleasure to serve the people of my home counties and whenever you plan your vacation trip to include Washington, do not fail to come to my office and let me help you enjoy your trip by seeing that you have every opportunity to be guided through the Government buildings.
